The eldest son,

ROBERT CLIVE, 1st Lord Clive, K.B., to whom England, in a great measure, owes the establishment of her dominion in India, was born at Styche, 29 Sept. 1725. In 1744 he entered the Civil Service E.I.C. In 1747 he quitted the civil for the military service of the Company. His first distinction was at the siege of Pondicherry, and at the attack of Devi Cotah, where as a lieutenant he commanded the forlorn hope that stormed the breach. In 1751 he took the city of Arcot. On his return to India he found the whole nation aroused by the atrocity of the Black Hole of Calcutta. Clive terribly avenged the deed on its perpetrator, the Surajah Dowlah, Subah of Bengal. He stormed Calcutta, and once master of it, brought the Surajah to immediate terms. He then entered into a plot to dethrone him, and with reckless energy carried out the conspiracy, the success of which was achieved by the famous battle of Plassey, fought the 23rd June, 1757; Clive there, with 3,000 men, utterly routed the Surajah Dowlah, at the head of troops amounting to 70,000. Clive became Governor of Calcutta, and then turning his arms against the Dutch, defeated them by sea and land, and compelled them to a treaty of infinite benefit to the East India Company. Clive was elevated to the peerage of Ireland, 15 March, 1762, as Baron Clive of Plassey, co. Clare; his knighthood of the Bath dates in 1764. He was M.P. for Shrewsbury, 1760 to 1774. 3♦James Drummond, b. 12 April, 1906.

Lineage—The Pringles of Stichill are the heirs male and representatives of the Pringles or Hop-Pringles of Craiglatch and Newhall, in the co. Selkirk.

William Pringle, of Craiglatch, also designated of Whittoun, in Roxburghshire, who had a charter of the lands of Hut, in that county, in 1492, and crown tacks of Craiglatch, in 1485 and 1490. He was s. by his son,

Alexander Pringle, of Craiglatch (crown tack 1490), who was s. by his son,

Robert Pringle, of Craiglatch (seisin 1512), s. by his son,

Alexander Pringle, of Craiglatch (retour 1539), s. by his son,

George Pringle, of Craiglatch, in whose behalf the tenure of his Ettrick Forest lands was changed to a feudal holding by charter, 1587. He had two sons,

1. George, his heir.
2. Robert, ancestor of the Stichill family, of whom hereafter.

The elder son was

George Pringle, of Newhall, to whom the property was restored. His name occurs in various deeds and family writs. By his wife, Margaret Ker, he had two sons and two daus.,

1. James, his heir.
2. Robert, who afterwards succeeded.
1. Margaret, d.s.p.
2. Christian, d.s.p.

George Pringle was s. about 1650, by his eldest son,

James Pringle, of Newhall, and he by his son,

Robert Pringle, of Newhall, who, in 1667, executed a deed, settling his estate on his own heirs male; failing whom, on the heirs male of his uncle, Robert Pringle, in Carberton; and on failing them, on the heirs male of Robert Pringle, of Stichill. He d.s.p. soon afterwards, and was s. by his uncle.

Robert Pringle, first designed "in Carberton," and afterwards of Newhall. He d.s.p. in 1672, when his estate of Newhall went, in terms of his nephew's destination, to the next heir male, his cousin, Robert Pringle, of Stichill, the first baronet of that family. We therefore return to the second son of the first George of Newhall,

Robert Pringle, whom we find designed of Bartingbush. He was bred a writer to the signet, rose to eminence in his profession, and became agent for most of the principal families in his own district of the country. His worth and frugality enabled him to realize a good fortune, with which he first acquired the lands of Templehall, in Berwickshire, and afterwards, in 1628, he purchased from Sir John Gordon, of Lochinvar (afterwards the first Viscount Kenmure), the fine estate of Stichill, in Roxburghshire; and to these he afterwards added other lands. Lineage—The ancient family of Knox, of Ranfurly, was founded in the reign of Alexander II. (1214-49), according to the pedigree recorded by Alexander Brodie, Lyon King of Arms, by Adam de Knocks or Knox (son of Uchtred), who obtained the lands of Knocks in the barony of Renfrew and assumed in consequence the surname of Knocks or Knox from these lands. He acquired also the lands of Ranfurly, Upper Craigends, and Grieff Castle, which remained in the family until sold in the 17th century to William Cochrane, afterwards Earl of Dundonald.

Adam de Knocks was s. by his son, JOHN DE KNOCKS, of that ilk and of Ranfurly, Craigends, and Grieff Castle, who was witness to the donation and mortification which Sir Anthony Lombard made to the Abbot and Convent of Paisley of the third part of the lands of Tullon in 1227, as appears by the chartulary of the Monastery. All the lands held by John de Knocks and his father devolved eventually upon their direct descendant,

UCHTRED KNOX, of that ilk, and of Ranfurly, Craigends, and Grieff Castle, who had a charter temp. JAMES II. (1436-60), the first of the family charters extant, by which he was re-invested, after resignation, with the lands of Ranfurly and the whole family estates to be held of the King. This Uchtred is variously designated "of that ilk," "of Ranfurly," and "of Craigends." There is a charter of JAMES III., granted about 1474, now in the Registers of the Great Seal in Edinburgh, to Uchtred Knox, son and heir of John Knox of that ilk, concerning the lands of Ranfurly and Grieff Castle. The same Uchtred or Uchter Knox, of Craigends, was one of the arbiters between the Abbot of Paisley and the town of Renfrew in a dispute about their marches, 1488. He m. (according to Brodie's pedigree) Agnes Lyle, dau. of Lord Lyle, and by her had issue,

The Baron Rodney (Sir George Bridges Harley Guest Rodney), of Rodney Stoke, Somerset, and a baronet, b. 2 Nov. 1891; s. his father as 8th baron 1909.

Lineage—The family of Rodney is one of very ancient descent. So far back as the time of the Empress Maud, we find Walter de Rodeney receiving a grant of the manor of Backwell and other lands, named after him Rodney Stoke, in the co. of Somerset. Walter's son, Sir Henry de Rodeney, steward to Prince Henry, Henry II.'s son, was father of Sir Richard de Rodeney, slain at Acres, 4th Richard I., and from him lineally descended, through successive members of Parliament and intermarriages with Gifford, FitzWarine, Bluet, Cressie, Chedder, St. John, Hungerford, &c. (as set forth in the Visitation of Somersetshire, A.D. 1623, and also in the family pedigree, in the possession of Lord Rodney, written out by Sir Edward Rodney, grand-uncle of the great Admiral),

Sir John Rodney, Knt., who succeeded to Rodney Stoke at the death of his cousin, Sir George Rodney. most eminent of England's naval commanders, was b. 19 Feb. 1718, and was sent to Harrow School, where he only continued till he was twelve years of age, when he went to sea under the last King's letter of service ever granted; he was a lieut. in 1739, and was a commander under Hawke, at the defeat of L'Etendière squadron in 1747; he became rear-admiral in 1759, and commanded at the successful bombardment of Havre, and the destruction of the flotilla prepared there to invade England, and sailing to the West Indies, reduced Martinique; he was, in consequence, promoted, in 1762, to the rank of vice-admiral, and created a baronet, 22 Jan. 1764. In 1780, he completely defeated Langara's fleet off Cape St. Vincent, taking him prisoner and making his ships prizes, and relieving Gibraltar. For this he was nominated a K.B. Another triumph, one of the greatest in our naval annals, obtained him his peerage. Lineage—This historically famous family of Ruthven, Saxon by descent, took their name from Ruthven, in Perthshire, possessed by them from the time of WILLIAM THE LION.

SIR WILLIAM RUTHVEN was made a lord of parliament as LORD RUTHVEN by JAMES III., and the already large possessions of the house of Ruthven were increased by the marriage of the 2nd Lord Ruthven with the senior co-heiress of Lord Halyburton, of Dirleton. The 3rd Lord Ruthven was the chief actor in the execution of Rizzio. The 4th lord bore the most prominent part in the seizure of JAMES VI., known in history as the "Raid of Ruthven," and was executed for treason in 1584. His family having been restored to their estates and honours, the 3rd Earl of Gowrie and his brother were engaged in the mysterious "Gowrie Conspiracy" of 1600, in which both were killed, and for which the family were again attainted. (For a fuller account, see BURKE'S Extinct Peerage.)

SIR THOMAS RUTHVEN, 1st Lord Ruthven, of Freeland, grandson of Alexander Ruthven, of Freeland (younger son of William, 2nd Lord Ruthven, of the old creation), was raised to the peerage as LORD RUTHVEN of Freeland in 1651, and sat in Parliament 1661. The patent is unrecorded, and its precise terms are unknown. It is said to have perished 14 March, 1750, when Freeland House was burned. Collateral proofs exist that heirs female were not excluded,* and there are grounds for surmising

* These are, the retention of the title on the Union Roll after the extinction of the issue male of the 1st lord, the votes given without protest by the 3rd and later lords at Holyrood, at a time when every dubious vote was challenged, the summonses to the coronations, and the fact that Ruthven was not included in the careful enumeration by the lords of session of peerages, as to which it was thought possible that a question could be raised.

Lineage—Dugdale states that the ancestors of this noble family were "persons of great note in Northumberland, for in 25 HENRY II., Henry de Maners paid 80 marks for livery of his father's lands in that county," and Edmondson, in his Baronagium, deduces the pedigree from

SIR ROBERT DE MANNERS, Knt., of Etal, was in the 17th EDWARD II., returned into Chancery among the principal persons in the co. Northumberland certified to bear arms by descent from their ancestors. ST. GERMANS.

The Earl of St. Germans (John Granville Cornwallis Eliot), Cornwall and Baron Eliot, of St. Germans, in the same county, lieut. 2nd Dragoons, Scots Greys, b. 11 June, 1890; s. his father as 6th earl 1911.

Lineage—This family flourished for several generations in Devon, before it removed into Cornwall; and in 1433, we find Walter Eliot returned amongst the gentry of that shire. Both Prince and Fuller refer to the family, and the pedigree entered in the Visitation of Cornwall of 1620 has a shield of twelve quarterings. It commences with

JOHN ELIOT, who m. Joan, dau. of John Bonvile, of Chute, Devon. He was father of EDWARD ELIOT, of Coteland, Devon, who m. Alice, dau. of Robert Guye, and had four sons: 1. JOHN, of St. Germans; 2. Walter; 3. THOMAS; 4. Robert, d. 1562; the 3rd son, THOMAS ELIOT, m. Joan, dau. of John Norbrooke, and his son,

RICHARD ELIOT, was seated at Port Eliot, Cornwall, which was the site and lands of the Priory of St. Germans, obtained from the Champernownes in exchange for property at Cotelands. Here Richard Eliot was resident "in great hospitality" at the time of Carew's survey of Cornwall. He m. Bridget, dau. and co-heir of Nicholas Carswell, of Hatch; and dying in 1609, was s. by his son,

SIR JOHN ELIOT, Knt. of Port Eliot, M.P. for the co. of Cornwall, one of the greatest statesmen and patriots of his time. This distinguished personage was born at Port Eliot, 20 April, 1590; and entered parliament as M.P. for St. Germans in Cornwall in 1614. A strenuous opponent of the court, he was appointed by the House of Commons one of the managers of the impeachment of the Duke of Buckingham; for which, with Sir Dudley Digges, the other manager, he was committed to the Tower, but was soon afterwards released. In 1628, Sir John Eliot, with other members of the House of Commons was again sent to the Tower for refusing to answer before the privy council for parliamentary conduct; and on 20 May in that year, an information was exhibited in the Star Chamber against Sir John and his companions for their undutiful speeches; on which charge being afterwards arraigned before the court of King's Bench, they were adjudged to be imprisoned during the king's pleasure, and to give security for their good behaviour, and Sir John was also fined £2,000. These gentlemen were subsequently offered their freedom, upon the terms of making submission, but they rejected the proposition; and Sir John Eliot died and was buried in the Tower, 27 Nov. 1632. His "Biography" compiled by John Forster from the original Eliot papers at Port Eliot, is an admirable history of the memorable epoch, in which he acted so prominent and patriotic a part. "Sir John Eliot, the most eloquent leader of the first three parliaments of CHARLES I., deserved, if ever man did" (we are quoting Mr. Forster's words) "that the constitutional historian of England should have singled him out and set him apart, as the most illustrious confessor in the cause of liberty whom the time produced." Sir John m. 1611, Rhadigund, dau. and co-heir of Richard Gedy, of Trebursey, Cornwall, and by her (who d. 1628) had four daus. (the eldest, Elizabeth, wife of the Hon. Col. Nathaniel Fiennes) and five sons, of whom

JOHN, the eldest son, M.P. for St. Germans, s. to the estates; m. Honora, dau. of Sir Daniel Norton, of Southwick, Hants, and dying 1685, left an only son,

EDWARD ELIOT, of Port Eliot (grandson of Nicholas Eliot, 5th son of Sir John Eliot, the patriot), who m. Susan, dau. of Sir W. Coryton; and 2ndly, Elizabeth, dau. and (by the death of her only brother) co-heiress of the Rt. Hon. James Craggs, postmaster general; he d. in 1722, and was s. by his only son,

JAMES ELIOT, who d. unm. in 1742, when the property reverted to his uncle,

James Craggs, secretary of state in the reign of GEORGE I., by whom (who m. 2ndly, the Hon. John Hamilton, father, by her, of John James, 1st Marquess of Abercorn) he had issue, 1. Lineage—ROBERT CECIL, 1st Earl of Salisbury, K.G., the founder of this branch of the Cecil family, was youngest son of William Cecil, Lord Burghley, Queen ELIZABETH's celebrated Lord Treasurer, by his 2nd wife, Mildred, dau. of Sir Anthony

Cooke (see EXETER, M.). His lordship received the honour of knighthood 20 May, 1591, was sworn of the privy council same year, M.P. for Westminster 1584-7, and for Herts 1588-1601, principal secretary of state 1596-1612, chancellor of the duchy of Lancaster 1597-9, lord privy seal 1597-1612, lord treasurer 1608-12, and chancellor of the universities of Cambridge and Dublin, lord lieutenant of Herts. He was created 13 May, 1603, Baron Cecil of Essendon, Rutland; advanced to the Viscounty of Cranborne, Dorset, 20 Aug. 1604; and created Earl of Salisbury, 4 May, 1605. The Earl of Salisbury, b. 1 June, 1563, m. 31 Aug. 1589, Elizabeth, sister of the unhappy Henry Brooke, Lord Cobham, and d. worn out with business, 24 May, 1612. She d. 24 Jan. 1596-7. They had issue (with a dau., Frances, m. 25 July, 1610, Henry Clifford, 5th Earl of Cumberland, who d.s.p.m. 11 Dec. 1643) a son, WILLIAM, 2nd earl. Lord Salisbury in his last illness was heard to say to Sir Walter Cope, "Ease and pleasure quake to hear of death; but my life, full of cares and miseries, desireth to be dissolved." He had written a letter in 1603 to Sir James Harington, the poet, in much the same tone. "Good Knight," saith the minister, "rest content, and give heed to one that hath sorrowed in the bright lustre of a court, and gone heavily on even the best-seeming fair ground. 'Tis a great task to prove one's honesty and yet not mar one's fortune. You have tasted a little thereof in our blessed queen's time, who was more than a man, and, in truth, sometimes less than a woman. I wish I waited now in your presence-chamber, with ease at my food and rest in my bed. I am pushed from the shore of comfort, and know not where the winds and waves of a court will bear me. I know it bringeth little comfort on earth; and he is, I reckon, no wise man that looketh this way to heaven." His lordship was s. by his only son,

WILLIAM DE SAYE, Lord of Berling, Sele, &c., Kent, and governor of the castle of Rochester 1260, who was s. by his son,

WILLIAM DE SAYE, summoned to parliament in 1294, and dying in the following year, was s. by his son,

GEOFFREY DE SAYE, who was summoned to parliament from 1313 to 1321. He d. in 1322, and was s. by his only son,

SIR GEOFFREY DE SAYE, summoned to parliament from 1342 to 1353. This baron was admiral of the fleet, and knight-banneret. He m. Maud, dau. of Guy de Beauchamp, Earl of Warwick, by whom he had issue,

1. Idonea, m. John, 3rd Lord Clinton.
2. Elizabeth, who d. issueless
3. Joan, who m. Sir William Fiennes, 10th in descent from John Fiennes, Baron of Fiennes, kinsman and companion of WILLIAM THE CONQUEROR, and 6th hereditary constable of Dover Castle. They had issue,

SIR WILLIAM FIENNES, was sheriff of Surrey and Sussex in 1297, and again in 1300. This Sir William m. Elizabeth, dau. and heir of William Battisford, and had two sons,

1. Roger (Sir), whose son,
Richard, m. Joan, dau. and heir of Thomas, Lord Dacre, and was declared Lord Dacre in the 37th year of HENRY IV.
2. JAMES, of whom presently.

The 2nd son,

SIR JAMES FIENNES, 1st Lord Saye and Sele, who was summoned to parliament, 3 March, 1446-7, as Lord Saye and Sele, and created, on the 6th of the same month, in open parliament, the lords spiritual and temporal acquiescing, a baron of the realm, by the same title. His lordship had previously obtained a grant of the office of constable of Dover, and warden of the Cinque Ports, to himself and his heirs male for ever, and was constituted lord treasurer of England in 1449. The ultimate fate, however, of this powerful noble marks the instability of greatness at the period in which he lived. Being a prisoner in the Tower when Jack Cade's mob entered the city of London, he was dragged by the riotous multitude fromt hence to the Standard at Cheapside, and there beheaded, 4 July, 1451. The baron was s. by his son (by his wife, Emmeline Cromer, of Willingham, maternally, one of the co-heirs of Trillow),

WILLIAM, 2nd Lord Saye and Sele. This nobleman obtained in 1461 a grant of the office of constable of Porchester Castle, and of Pevensey Castle, for life; and being one of the lords who attended the king into the north, was made vice-admiral to Richard Nevil, the great Earl of Warwick, then high admiral of England. In the 10th year of EDWARD IV., he was one of the lords who fled with the king into Flanders; and upon his majesty's return, landed with him at Ravenspur, in Holdernesse, but was soon afterwards slain at the battle of Barnet, 14 April, 1471. His lordship m. Margaret Wykeham, dau. and heir of William Wykeham, son and heir of Sir Thomas Wykeham, otherwise Perot, Knt., son of William Perot, by Alice, his wife, dau. of William Champneis, by Agnes, his wife, sister of WILLIAM OF WYKEHAM, bishop of Winchester, and founder of Winchester College and New College, Oxford. By Margaret Wykeham, Lord Saye and Sele acquired Broughton Castle and the lordship of Broughton, in Oxfordshire, and had a son and successor,

HENRY FIENNES, 3rd Lord Saye and Sele, was never summoned to parliament. He m. Anne, dau. of Sir Richard Harcourt, and dying 1476, was s. by his son,

RICHARD FIENNES, 4th Lord Saye and Sele, who had no summons to parliament. He m. Elizabeth, dau. of Richard Crofts, of Chipping Norton, and was s. by his son,

RICHARD FIENNES, de jure 6th Lord Saye and Sele, who did not bear the title. He m. Ursula, dau. of Richard Fermour, of Easton Neston, and dying 1579, was s. by his son,

SIR RICHARD FIENNES, Knt., 7th Lord Saye and Sele, who obtained a recognition of his claim to the barony of Saye and Sele, by letters patent from JAMES I., dated 9 Aug. 1603, wherein the said barony was confirmed to himself and to his heirs general; but as he took his place in parliament as a junior baron, these letters appear to have been considered a new creation. He m. 1st, Constance, dau. of Sir W. Kingsmill, of Sidmanton; and 2ndly, Elizabeth, dau. and co-heir of Henry Coddingham. He d. in 1613, and was s. by his son,

WILLIAM, 8th Baron and 1st Viscount Saye and Sele, so created 7 July, 1624, who was one of the commissioners of the public safety, and of the Treaty of Newport, and a distinguished leader in the contest between CHARLES I. and the parliament. At his lordship's house, at Broughton, the secret discussions of resistance to the Court took place. Clarendon reports of him that "he had the deepest hand in all the evils that befel the unhappy kingdom;" while Whitelock, a writer on the other side of the parliament, praises him as a statesman "of great parts, wisdom, and integrity." His lordship m. Elizabeth, dau. of John Temple, of Stow, Bucks, by whom he had (with five daus.), Serena Mary Barbara, b. 30 March, 1901.

Lineage—The surname of this family was assumed from Lumley on the Weare, in the bishopric of Durham, and the family deduces its lineage from Liulph, who m. Algitha, dau. of Aldred, Earl of Northumberland, by Edgina, dau. of Etheldred II. This Liulph, who was a nobleman of great popularity, was murdered by means of Leofwin, chaplain to Walcher, bishop of Durham;

a crime soon after avenged by the populace of Durham, who sacrificed both the chaplain and the prelate to their just resentment. The elder son of Liulph was Uchtred, whose elder son was styled William de Lumley, m. Judith, dau. of Hesilden of Hesilden, and was s. by his only son, Sir William de Lumley, Knt., whose elder son, Sir William de Lumley, m. the dau. and co-heir of Sir Walter d'Andre, Durham, Knt., and was s. by his only son,

Sir Roger de Lumley, Knt., who m. Sybil, one of the daus. and co-heirs of the great Northumberland feudal baron, Hugh de Morewic, and was s. by his elder son,

Sir Robert de Lumley, who m. Lucia, one of the three sisters and co-heirs of William, Robert, and Thomas de Thweng, Barons Thweng, and was s. by his son,

Sir Marmaduke de Lumley, Knt., who first assumed the arms of the ancient house of Thweng, instead of those of Lumley (gu., six parrots, arg.). This Sir Marmaduke was s. by his eldest son,

Robert de Lumley, who d. unm. 48th Edward III., and a minor, and was s. by his brother,

Sir Ralph de Lumley, Knt., 1st Lord Lumley, who was summoned to parliament among the barons of the realm from 1384 to 1399. This nobleman was a deputy-governor of Berwick-upon-Tweed, in the 15th of Richard II., and obtained royal permission, in the 16th of the same reign, to convert his manor-house of Lumley into a castle. His lordship joining subsequently, however, in the rebellion of Thomas de Holland, Earl of Kent, was attainted, and died in the field of battle. He had m. Eleanor, dau. of John, Lord Nevil of Raby, and left, with three daus., four sons; of whom the youngest, Marmaduke, was successively master of Trinity Hall, Cambridge, and chancellor of that university, bishop of Carlisle (1430), treasurer of England (1446), and bishop of Lincoln (1451). Thomas, the eldest son, d. a minor in 1404, and was s. by his brother,

Sir John de Lumley, 2nd Lord Lumley, who doing homage in the 6th of Henry IV., had livery of all castles, manors, and lands, whereof Sir Ralph Lumley, his father, was seised at the time of his attainder, and was restored in blood by parliament in 1411. This nobleman was actively engaged in the French wars of Henry IV., and in those of Henry V.; in the 9th year of whose reign he lost his life, with Thomas, Duke of Clarence, at the battle of Beaugé, in Anjou (13 April, 1421), and was s. by his only son,

Sir Thomas de Lumley, 3rd Lord Lumley, who obtained from parliament, in 1461, a reversal of the attainder of his grandfather, and was summoned as a baron, from 1461 to 1497, in which latter year he is supposed to have died. His lordship m. Margaret, dau. of Sir James Harrington, and was s. by his only son,

Sir George, 4th Lord Lumley, who does not appear to have been summoned at any time to parliament. This nobleman was sheriff of Northumberland, a powerful office in those days, in the 2nd year of Edward IV. His lordship m. Elizabeth, dau. and heir of Roger Thornton, an opulent merchant of Newcastle-upon-Tyne. His lordship's eldest son, Thomas Lumley, predeceasing him, left four sons and three daus., by his wife Elizabeth Plantagenet, natural dau. of Edward IV., by Lady Elizabeth Lucy. Lord Lumley d. in the 23rd year of Henry VII., and was s. by his grandson,

Richard, 5th Lord Lumley, who had summons to parliament in 1509. His lordship m. Anne, dau. of Sir John Conyers, K.G., of Hornby Castle, co. York, by whom he left two sons,

1. John, his successor.
2. Anthony, m. a dau. of Richard Gray, Northumberland, and left,

Roger, m. Anne Kurtwich, and had, with other issue, Richard (Sir), of whom hereafter, as 1st Viscount Lumley.

His lordship d. in 1511, and was s. by his eldest son,

John, 6th Lord Lumley, summoned to parliament in 1514. This nobleman was one of the barons who signed, in the 22nd year of Henry VIII., the memorable letter to Pope Clement VII., intimating that unless his holiness complied with the king's wishes regarding his divorce from Queen Catherine, that the papal supremacy would be much endangered in England. But in the 28th of the same monarch, he was one of the chief of those northern lords who appeared in the insurrection, called the Pilgrimage of Grace; he shared, however, the royal clemency. His lordship m. Joan, dau. of Henry, Lord Scroop of Bolton, by whom he had an only son, George, who being implicated in the treason of Lord Darcy, Sir Thomas Percy, and others, was committed to the Tower and convicted and executed. He m. Jane, 2nd dau. and co-heir of Sir Richard Knightley, by whom he had,

1. John, who was created Lord Lumley by parliament.
1. Jane, m. Geffrey Markham, and d.s.p.
2. Barbara, m. Humphrey Lloyd, of Denbigh, and her descendant, the Rev. Dr. Lloyd, claimed, unsuccessfully, the Barony of Lumley in 1723. (See Burke's Dormant and Extinct Peerage.)

His lordship was s. by his grandson,

John, 7th Lord Lumley, who was restored in blood by an act of parliament passed in 1547, whereby it was enacted, that the said John and his heirs male should enjoy the dignity of a baron. This nobleman was one of the peers who sat in judgment upon Mary, Queen of Scots, and Robert Devereux, Earl of Essex. His lordship m. twice; but dying issueless, 11 April, 1609, the ancient barony of Lumley expired (the act of parliament which restored his lordship to the dignity of Lord Lumley not having repealed the attainder of his father), as did the barony of the new creation, it being limited to heirs male only, while the estates devolved by his lordship's will, and by deed of settlement, upon his kinsman,

Sir Richard Lumley, Knt., 1st Viscount Lumley (refer to the Hon. Anthony Lumley, 2nd son of Richard, 5th Lord Lumley), who was elevated to the peerage of Ireland, as Viscount Lumley, of Waterford, 12 July, 1628. This nobleman, adhering faithfully to the king during the civil wars, made Lumley Castle a garrison, and being a principal commander under Prince Rupert, marched with that general into the west of England, and was at the siege of Bristol, where he remained until its surrender in 1645. His lordship m. Frances, dau. of Henry Shelley, of Warminghurst Park, in Sussex, and was s. on his decease by his grandson,

Richard, 1st Earl of Scarbrough (son of the Hon. John Lumley, by Mary, dau., and eventually one of the heirs of Sir Henry Compton, K.B., of Brambletye, in Sussex), who was enrolled amongst the peers of England, 31 May, 1681, as Baron Lumley of Lumley Castle, with remainder, in default of male issue, to his brother Henry. His lordship was created, 10 April, 1689, Viscount Lumley, and 15 April, 1690, Earl of Scarbrough. This nobleman was a military officer, and had a chief command at the battle of Sedgemoor, in 1685, wherein the unfortunate Duke of Monmouth was defeated. His lordship m. Frances, only dau. and heir of Sir Henry Jones, of Aston, co. Oxford, by Frances, his wife, sister of Thomas, Lord Fauconberg, and of Grace, mother of James, Earl Castleton; and dying in 1721, was s. by his second son (his eldest son, Henry, having predeceased him in 1710),

Richard, 2nd Earl of Scarbrough, K.G., at whose decease, unm. in 1739, the honours devolved upon his brother,

Thomas, 3rd Earl of Scarbrough, K.B., who had assumed the surname of Saunderson, by act of parliament, upon inheriting the estates of his cousin, James Saunderson, Earl of Castleton, in Ireland, at that nobleman's decease, 1723. Lineage—According to a pedigree compiled in 1587, this family, whose surname was anciently written SCOT or SCHOT and in Latin SCOTUS, is derived from Henrich, of Eysenrodt, in Nassau, living in the 12th century, who is stated in the MS. to be descended from the Scots who, in the train of two noble ladies, settled in a village in Franconia called after them, Schotten (Fischer's "Scots in Germany"). The effigies of these two ladies are still preserved in the church at Schotten. This Henrich is given as the common ancestor of the SCHOTTS of Schottenstein, Strassburg, and Braunfels. The pedigree of the SCHOTTS of Braunfels, in Solms, entered at the Court of Lorraine in 1570, begins however with MATTHIAS SCHOTT, of Braunfels, whose grandson,

His lordship carried a white wand, as symbol of his office of Lord High Steward of Ireland, at the Coronations of King Edward VII., 1902, and of King George V., 1911.

Lineage—This eminent and historic family deduces its descent from a period antecedent to the Conquest, the first person of note, however, upon record is,

Richard de Talbot, mentioned in Domesday Book as holding nine hides of land from Waltor Giffard, Earl of Buckingham. This Richard m. the dau. of Gerard de Gournay, Baron of Yarmouth, by whom he had two sons,

1. Geoffrey, progenitor of the Talbots of Bashall, in Yorkshire, now extinct in the male line. 2. Hugh.

The 2nd son,

Hugh de Talbot, otherwise Taleboth, ancestor of the house of Shrewsbury, was (according to Ordericus Vitalis) made governor of the castle of Plessis, in Normandy, by his uncle, Hugh de Gournay, in 1118 (then in rebellion against Henry I.), after he had caused the king's governor to be put to death. Hugh de Talbot subsequently assumed the habit of a monk, and retired into the monastery of Beaubeck, in Normandy, leaving three sons, 1. Richard, 2. William, and 3. Hugh, by his wife Beatrix, dau. of William de Mandeville. The eldest son,

Richard de Talbot, obtained from King Henry II. a grant of the lordship of Eccleswall and Linton, co. Hereford, which grant King Richard I. confirmed for two hundred marks. This Richard de Talbot m. a dau. of Stephen Bulmer, of Appletreewick, co. York, and was s. by his eldest son,

Gilbert de Talbot, who was present at the coronation of King RICHARD I., in the 5th of whose reign he had lands given to him in Linton, for the custody of the castle of Ludlow. In 1199, this Gilbert paid a fine of forty shillings that he might not go beyond sea, and that he might have the scutage of his own demesnes. He was s. by his son,

RICHARD DE TALBOT, who m. Aliva, dau. of Alan Basset, Baron of Wycombe, Bucks, sister of Gilbert Basset, justice of England, and widow of Dru de Montacute, by whom he had issue, Richard, who was elected Bishop of London, 46 HENRY III., but d. before consecration; and an elder son,

GILBERT DE TALBOT, his successor, who was made governor of the castles of Grosmond, Skenfrith, and Blancminster, by King HENRY III., and constituted justice itinerant for the co. of Hereford, by the same monarch. He m. Gwendaline, dau. of Rhys ap Griffith ap Rhys ap Griffith ap Rhys ap Tewdwr Mawr, King of South Wales, and relinquished in consequence his paternal arms, viz.: Bendy of ten pieces, arg. and gu., to assume: A lion, rampant, or, on a field, gu., within a bordure, engrailed, of the first, the armorial ensigns of the Princes of South Wales, which his descendants have ever since borne. He d. in 1274, and was s. by his son,

RICHARD DE TALBOT, feudal baron of Eccleswall, sheriff of Gloucester 28 EDWARD I.; who m. Sarah, dau. of William Beauchamp, Baron of Elmley and Earl of Warwick; and dying in 1306, was s. by his eldest son,

SIR GILBERT TALBOT, 1st BARON TALBOT, who being involved with Thomas Plantagenet, Earl of Lancaster, in the execution of Piers de Gaveston, Earl of Cornwall, had his pardon for the same. This Sir Gilbert, who was lord chamberlain to the king, 2 EDWARD III., had summons to parliament, as a baron, 1331-43, m. Anne, dau. of William Boteler, of Wemm; and dying in 1346, was s. by his son,

SIR RICHARD TALBOT, 2ND BARON TALBOT, Governor of Berwick, summoned to parliament from 1331 to 1355. This nobleman was an eminent warrior in the reign of EDWARD III., and was made a knight banneret. He m. before 1325 Elizabeth, dau. and co-heir of John Comyn, lord of Badenoch, by Joan his wife, sister of Aymer de Valence, the last Earl of Pembroke of that family. He d. in 1356, possessed of immense estates (amongst which was Goderich Castle, co. Hereford, where he chiefly resided), and was s. by his only son,

GILBERT, 3RD BARON TALBOT, summoned to parliament from 1362 to 1386. This nobleman m. 1st, Petronil, dau. of James Botiler, 1st Earl of Ormonde, by whom he had an only son; and 2ndly, Joan, dau. of Ralph Stratford, Earl of Stafford, and was s. at his decease, 24 April, 1387, by his son,

SIR RICHARD, 4TH BARON TALBOT, m. Ankaret, sister and eventually sole heiress of John, Baron Strange of Blackmere, was summoned to parliament in the lifetime of his father, as "Ricardo Talbot de Blackmere," 1383-7, and "Ricardo de Godericke Castell" 1387-93. This nobleman d. 7 Sept. 1396, having by her (who m. 2ndly, Thomas Nevill, Lord Furnivall, and d. 1413) had five sons and four daus., of whom,

1. GILBERT, s. his father.
2. JOHN, the 2nd son, was 1st Earl of Shrewsbury.
3. Richard, the 3rd son, was archbishop of Dublin for thirty-two years; during which period he was successively lord chancellor, lord justice, and lord deputy of Ireland.

Lord Talbot was s. by his eldest son,

SIR GILBERT, 5TH BARON TALBOT, K.G., summoned to Parliament as a baron 1404-17, m. 1st, Joan, 2nd dau. of Thomas (of Woodstock), Duke of Gloucester, youngest son of King EDWARD III., by whom he had no issue; and 2ndly, Beatrix, of the illustrious house of Pinto, in Portugal, by whom he left at his decease, 19 Oct. 1419, a dau. his successor,

ANKARET TALBOT, BARONESS TALBOT AND STRANGE DE BLACKMERE, at whose decease, in minority, 13 Dec. 1431, the original Barony of Talbot, and that of Strange de Blackmere, devolved upon her ladyship's uncle,

SIR JOHN TALBOT, 1st Earl of Shrewsbury, K.G., b. 1390; m. Maud, eldest dau. and co-heir of Thomas Nevil, Lord Furnival, and was summoned to parliament in 1409, as "Johannes Talbot de Furnyvall." He was appointed, in 1412, lord justice of Ireland, and in two years afterwards, lord lieutenant of the same kingdom: he governed there for seven years. This Lord Talbot, whom Shakespeare terms "the great Alcides of the field," was one of the most renowned captains of the warlike age he lived in. His earlier feats of arms were under HENRY V., in France, at the siege and capture of Meaux. He was with the king when he died, in 1422, and he seems to have inherited the heroic spirit of his royal master. He gloriously sustained the cause of HENRY VI., throughout his French realm, in battle after battle, until the very name of Talbot became a terror to Frenchmen. He was, for a moment, checked in his career by the Maid of Orleans, at Patay, in 1429, when his army being routed, he was taken prisoner. He was exchanged for Ambrose de Lore, a celebrated French partisan; and was soon in activity again, the master-mind and master-director of the fierce contest in France, doing good and effective service every day. In reward, he was created, 20 May, 1442, EARL OF SHREWSBURY. He was subsequently re-constituted lord lieutenant of Ireland, and elevated to the peerage of that kingdom, 17 July, 1446, as Earl of Waterford, having been appointed at the same time lord high steward of Ireland. After this, he went once more to fight in France. He commanded a fleet, landed and took Falaise, and, as lieutenant of the duchy of Acquitaine, marched to the south and made Bordeaux surrender and the surrounding minor towns send in instant submission. He thence advanced to the relief of Chastillon, and met the besieging French army commanded by their then greatest leader, Dunois, Bastard of Orleans. In the battle which ensued, 20 July 1453, Talbot, in the sixty-third year of his age, received a wound in the thigh, which proved immediately mortal. He had been victorious in forty different battles and dangerous skirmishes: his death proved fatal to the English dominion in France, which never flourished afterwards. The earl had two surviving sons by his 1st wife,

1. JOHN, 2nd earl.
2. Christopher (Sir), d. 10 July, 1460.

By his 2nd, Margaret, eldest dau. and co-heiress of Richard Beauchamp, Earl of Warwick, he had

3. JOHN, who was created in 1443, Lord Lisle of Kingston Lisle in Berkshire; and in 1452, Viscount Lisle. His lordship fell endeavouring to rescue his father's body at the battle of Chastillon. He m. Joan, dau. and co-heiress of Sir Thomas Chedder, of Chedder, in Somersetshire, and left, with two daus., THOMAS, 2nd viscount. This nobleman having a dispute with Lord Berkeley, fell in a skirmish at Wooton-under-Edge, 20 March, 1469, when the viscounty expired, but the extinction of the barony of Lisle is doubtful (see BURKE'S Extinct Peerage).
4. Humphrey (Sir), marshal of Calais; d.s.p. in 1492.
5. Lewis (Sir), of Penyard, Herts.

1. Joan, m. James, 1st Lord Berkeley.

His lordship was s. by his son,

JOHN, 2nd Earl of Shrewsbury, K.G., lord chancellor of Ireland during the administration of his father, and subsequently lord treasurer of England. His lordship, true to his family's devotion to the Lancastrian cause, fell, with his brother Sir Christopher, at the battle of Northampton, 10 July, 1460, fighting for the Red Rose. The earl, b. 1413, m. 1st, Catherine, dau. and co-heiress of Sir Edward Burnel, but had no issue. He m. 2ndly, Elizabeth, dau. of James Butler, Earl of Ormonde, and by her, who d. 8 Sept. 1473, left (with other issue),

1. JOHN, 3rd earl.
2. James (Sir), d.s.p. 10 July, 1460.
3. Gilbert (Sir), P.C., K.G., of Grafton, co. Worcester, who was high sheriff of Shropshire, temp. RICHARD III, but proved a stanch adherent of the Earl of Richmond at Bosworth, 1485, the right wing of whose army Sir Gilbert commanded in that memorable field, and received the honour of knighthood, with a grant of the manor of Grafton and other lands, for his valiant conduct, from the victor. Sir Gilbert had also a command at the battle of Stoke, 1487, when the Earl of Lincoln and Lambert Simnel were defeated, and he was then made a knight-banneret. He was elected K.G. 1496, and was deputy or captain of Calais temp. HENRY VIII. Sir Gilbert m. 1st, Elizabeth, dau. of Ralph, 7th lord Greystock, and widow of Thomas, 5th Lord Scrope, of Masham, and by her had issue,
   1. Gilbert (Sir), of Grafton, sheriff of Worcestershire 31 HENRY VIII, m. 1st, Anne, dau. and co-heir of Sir William Paston, and 2ndly, Elizabeth, widow of — Wynter, and d. 22 Oct. 1542, having by his first wife had issue,

   2. Humphry (Sir), d.s.p. in the Holy Land.

Sir Gilbert m. 2ndly, Etheldreda (Audrey), dau. of William Landwade Cotton, of Landwade, co. Cambridge, and widow of Thomas Barton, and of Richard Gardiner, lord mayor of London, and d. 19 Sept. 1516, having by her had issue,

3. John (Sir), of Albrighton, Salop, and later of Grafton, high sheriff, Salop, 19, 29, and 33 HENRY VIII. He m. 1st, Margaret, dau. and heir of Adam Troutbeck, of Mobberley, in Cheshire, and by her had a son,
   (1) JOHN (Sir), of Grafton and Albrighton, m. Frances, dau. of Sir John Giffard, Knt., and d. 6 June, 1555, having had issue,
      JOHN (Sir), of Grafton, m. Catherine, dau. of Sir William Petre, Knt., secretary of state to Queen MARY, and left at his decease,
         1*b.* GEORGE, 9th earl.
         2*b.* John, of Longford, Salop, m. Eleanor, dau. and co-heir of Sir Thomas Baskerville, Knt. of Wolvershill, and had (with other issue who d. unm.),

JOHN, s. his uncle as 10th earl.
1*b*. Anne, who m. Thomas Needham, of Shenton.
Sir John m. 2ndly, Elizabeth, dau. of Walter Wrottesley, of Wrottesley, co. Stafford, and by her had a son,
(2) JOHN, of Salwarp, ancestor of 3rd EARL TALBOT, who became 18th EARL OF SHREWSBURY.
Sir John, of Albrighton, d. 10 Sept. 1549.

John, 2nd Earl of Shrewsbury, was s. in 1460 by his eldest son,

JOHN, 3rd Earl of Shrewsbury, b. 12 Dec. 1448, followed when twelve years of age, Queen Margaret to the second battle of St. Albans, 17 Feb. 1460-1, and was knighted by the Prince of Wales immediately afterwards. He m., 1467, Catherine, dau. of Humphrey, Duke of Buckingham. She d. 26 Dec. 1476. He d. 28 June, 1473, and had 1. GEORGE, 4th earl, and 2. Thomas, who d.s.p. The elder son,

GEORGE, 4th Earl of Shrewsbury, K.G., b. 1468, carried the first sword (curtana) at the coronation of HENRY VII., and was installed a knight of the Garter in 1488, for his valiant conduct at the battle of Stoke, 16 June, 1487. His lordship m. 1st, Anne, dau. of William, Lord Hastings, by whom he had six sons and five daus. He m. 2ndly, Elizabeth, dau. and co-heir of Sir Richard Walden, Knt. of Erith, in Kent, by whom he had one surviving dau., Anne, m. 1st, Peter Compton, son and heir of Sir William Compton, Knt.; and 2ndly, William Herbert, Earl of Pembroke. Lord Shrewsbury d 26 July, 1538, and was s. by his 2nd and eldest surviving son,

FRANCIS, 5th Earl of Shrewsbury, K.G., b. 1500, was summoned to parliament as a baron in the lifetime of his father (7 Feb. 1532-3). "This nobleman," says Lodge, "although of no ordinary abilities, appears to have been confined almost entirely to a military life. The bravery, prudence, and fidelity which had distinguished him in his important public situations during the reign of Queen MARY, induced ELIZABETH to retain him amongst those few servants of the late reign whom she admitted to her privy council when she mounted the throne; but his steady adherence to the religion of his ancestors probably obstructed his further promotion. Of the whole body of the temporal peers who had so lately, and unanimously, subscribed to the recognition of the temporal authority [of the papal see] only this nobleman and one more [Viscount Montagu] could now be found to oppose the revocation of that concession." He survived this uncourtly act of sincerity but a few months, and dying 25 Sept. 1560, was s. by his only son (by his 1st wife, Mary, dau. of Thomas, Lord Dacre of Gillesland),

GEORGE, 6th Earl of Shrewsbury, K.G., b. 1525, had the custody of MARY, Queen of Scots, committed to his charge, in the 11th of ELIZABETH, and, nearly twenty years afterwards, assisted, with Henry Grey, Earl of Kent, at the unhappy MARY'S execution. He had been appointed, 16 Jan. 1571-2, at the arraignment of the Duke of Norfolk, lord high steward of England; and after the execution of that nobleman, earl marshal. His lordship m. 1st, Gertrude (who d. 1566), dau. of Thomas Manners, Earl of Rutland, by whom he had four sons and three daus.; and 2ndly, Elizabeth, dau. and co-heiress of John Hardwick, of Hardwick, by whom he had no issue. Of this lady, Lodge says, "she had been already thrice married: to Robert Barley, of Barley, co. Derby; to Sir William Cavendish; and to Sir William St. Loo, captain of the guard to Queen ELIZABETH. She prevailed upon the first of these gentlemen, who died without issue, to settle his estate on her and her heirs, who were abundantly produced from her second marriage. Her third husband, who was very rich, was led by her persuasions to make a similar disposition of his fortune, to the utter prejudice of his daughters by a former wife; and now, unsated with the wealth and caresses of three husbands, she finished her conquests by marrying the Earl of Shrewsbury, the richest and most powerful peer of his time. To sum up her character, she was a woman of a masculine understanding and conduct; proud, furious, selfish, and unfeeling. She was a builder, a buyer and seller of estates, a money-lender, a farmer, and a merchant of lead, coals, and timber. She lived to a great old age, and d. in 1607, immensely rich." The Earl of Shrewsbury was s. in 1590, by his eldest surviving son,

GILBERT, 7th Earl of Shrewsbury, K.G., Ambassador to France 1596, b. 20 Nov. 1552, was summoned to Parliament 1580 as Baron Talbot. He was founder of the Shrewsbury Hospital at Sheffield. He m. Mary, dau. of his step-mother, by Sir William Cavendish, and d. 8 May, 1616, leaving three daus.

1. Mary, m. William Herbert, Earl of Pembroke, and d.s.p.
2. Elizabeth, m. Henry Grey, Earl of Kent, and d.s.p. 1651.
3. Alathea, god-daughter of Queen ELIZABETH, m. Thomas Howard, Earl of Arundel, and had issue, from whom descends the present Duke of Norfolk.

Upon these ladies the greater part of the earl's estates devolved, and the baronies of Talbot, Furnival, and Strange of Blackmere fell into abeyance until the decease of the two elder without issue, when those dignities are presumed to have vested in Alathea, the 3rd dau. (See BURKE'S Extinct and Dormant Peerage.) The earldom passed to the deceased lord's brother,

EDWARD, 8th Earl of Shrewsbury, bapt. 25 Feb. 1561; m. about 1584, Jane, dau. and co-heir of Cuthbert, 1st Lord Ogle. She was bur. 7 Jan. 1625-6. He d.s.p.s. 8 Feb. 1617, when the earldom reverted to his kinsman,

GEORGE TALBOT, of Grafton, 9th Earl of Shrewsbury (refer to descendants of Sir Gilbert Talbot, of Grafton, son of John, 2nd earl). His lordship dying unm., 2 April, 1630, the peerage devolved upon his nephew,

JOHN, 10th Earl of Shrewsbury (son of John Talbot, by Eleanor, dau. and co-heir of Sir Thomas Baskerville, Knt. of Brinsop, Herefordshire). His lordship m. Mary, dau. of Sir Francis Fortescue, K.B., of Salden Hill, and had, with other issue,

1. GILBERT, 13th earl.

He d. 8 Feb. 1653-4, and was s. by his eldest surviving son,

FRANCIS, 11th Earl of Shrewsbury and EARL OF WATERFORD, m. 1st, Anne, dau. and heir of Sir John Conyers, of Sockburne, by whom he had an only surviving dau., Mary, m. John Stonor, of Watlington Park, co. Oxford. His lordship m. 2ndly, 10 Jan. 1658-9, Anna Maria, dau. of Robert, 2nd Earl of Cardigan, by whom he had issue; and dying 16 March, 1667, of a wound received in a duel with George Villiers, 2nd Duke of Buckingham, was s. by his only surviving son,

CHARLES, 12th Earl and Duke of Shrewsbury, K.G., godson to CHARLES II., b. 24 July, 1660, who was created, 30 April, 1694, Marquess of Alton, co. Stafford, and DUKE OF SHREWSBURY, and installed a knight of the Garter. His grace was a prominent statesman in the reigns of WILLIAM and MARY, Queen ANNE, and GEORGE I., and filled some of the highest official situations. He had quitted the Church of Rome and become a Protestant in 1679, and by his steady adherence to the Protestant cause incurred the displeasure of JAMES II. He was one of the seven who, in June, 1688, signed the celebrated association inviting over the Prince of Orange. Queen ANNE on her deathbed delivered to him the treasurer's staff. At that time the Duke of Shrewsbury was lord lieutenant of Ireland, lord high treasurer of Great Britain, and lord chamberlain, a circumstance previously unparalleled in our history. Immediately after her majesty expired his grace secured the Hanoverian succession by at once signing the proclamation for proclaiming GEORGE I. He m. Adelhida, dau. of the Marquis of Palliotti, in Bologna, Italy, but d. without issue, 1 Feb. 1717-18, when the dukedom and marquessate expired, but the earldom, &c., reverted to his cousin,

Hon. GEORGE TALBOT, younger brother of Gilbert, 13th earl, died before that nobleman, 12 Dec. 1733. In apprehension, he so far exceeded the common rank of men that he saw by a kind of intuition the strength or imperfection of any arguments; and so penetrating was his sagacity that the most intricate and perplexing mazes of the law could never so involve and darken the truth as to conceal it from his discernment. As a member of each House of Parliament, no man ever had a higher deference paid to his abilities, or more confidence placed in his public spirit; and so excellent was his temper and so candid his disposition in debate, that he never offended those whose arguments he opposed Though removed at a time of life when others begin to shine, he might justly be said 'satis et ad vitam et ad gloriam vixisse.'" Lord Talbot m. 1709, Cecil, dau. and heiress of Charles Matthews, of Castley-Menich, Glamorgan, and granddau. of David Jenkins, of Hensol.
